

North Carolina Opera Opens 2018-19 Season with Concert Performance of Bellini's Bel Canto Masterpiece Norma

OCTOBER 1, 2018—RALEIGH, NC—North Carolina Opera opens its 2018-19 season with a concert performance of Bellini's bel canto masterpiece Norma at 2 p.m. on October 21, Meymandi Concert Hall at the Duke Energy Center for the Performing Arts, 2 East South Street in Raleigh. Tickets start at $25 and are available for purchase online at www.ncopera.org or by phone at 919-792-3853. Norma is sung in the original Italian with projected English translations.

Norma features superb cast of internationally acclaimed singers, including soprano Leah Crocetto, who made her NCO in 2012 as Leonora in Verdi's Il trovatore, singing her first performance of the title role. Mezzo-soprano Elizabeth DeShong, Norma's rival Adalgisa, and tenor Chad Shelton, their shared love interest Pollione, make their NCO debuts. Antony Walker, Music Director of the Pittsburgh Opera and Artistic Director of Washington Concert Opera, makes his company debut conducting the North Carolina Opera Orchestra and Chorus.

The Druid high priestess Norma tries to keep a fragile peace as her people clamor for war. She betrays them by taking a Roman lover, with disastrous consequences. This classic love triangle features a surprising and heroic finale, coupled with gorgeous melodies including the signature aria, "Casta Diva."

"Norma is a touchstone work of bel canto repertory. Not only is the music beautiful, but it dazzles with both fire and ice in this classic story of love and revenge. Norma had its world premiere in 1831 and we are proud to present its long overdue Triangle premiere," said NCO's General Director Eric Mitchko. Norma is generously sponsored by Rosemarie Sweeney.
